1. Taxes:

(a) There will be no reduction in TEUC for social security benefits.

(b) There will be a reduction in the case of other retirement systems and annuities if the unemployment compensation payments are based on the same wages that the retirement payments and annuities are based on to the extent of the retirement pension or annuity. However, there will be no reduction if unemployment compensation payments are based on earnings from another employer (that is, earnings independent of those which generated the retirement pension or annuity). There would be no reduction for veterans' disability and compensation payments.

*These figures on measures reported included all placed on calendar or acted on by Senate even if there was no accompanying report. A total of 142 reports has been filed in the Senate; a total of 215 has been filed in the House.

This figure does not agree with the total difference between bills reported and bills passed, because resolutions and bills placed on the House Calendar without having been formally reported were not included in figures of measures reported to the House; the difference in the case of Senate figures is due to uncounted bills "laid on the table" or "indefinitely postponed."

*These figures on measures reported included all placed on calendar or acted on by Senate even if there was no accompanying report. A total of 860 reports has been filed in the Senate; a total of 1,101 has been filed in the House.

This figure does not agree with the total difference between bills reported and bills passed, because resolutions and bills placed on the House Calendar without having been formally reported were not included in figures of measures reported to the House; the difference in the case of Senate figures is due to uncounted bills "laid on the table" or "indefinitely postponed."

*These figures on measures reported included all placed on calendar or acted on by Senate even if there was no accompanying report. A total of 1,116 reports has been filed in the Senate; a total of 1,283 has been filed in the House.

This figure does not agree with the total difference between bills reported and bills passed, because resolutions and bills placed on the House Calendar without having been formally reported were not included in figures of measures reported to the House; the difference in the case of Senate figures is due to uncounted bills "laid on the table" or "indefinitely postponed."

Subsequent to sine die adjournment 1 Senate and 8 House special reports were filed and are included in above figures.

and concur in Senate amendments Nos. 3, 4, 13, 14, and 19; and to recede and concur in amendments Nos. 12, 20, and 22 with amendments. Pages 21414–21426

Taxes: By a record vote of 97 yeas to 173 nays the House rejected the conference report on H.R. 258, increasing the D.C. sales tax from 2 cents to 3 cents and transferring certain parking fees and other moneys to the highway fund. The House insisted on further disagreement to the Senate amendment, requested a further conference with the Senate, and appointed as conferees Representatives McMillan, Whitener, and Broyhill. Pages 21427–21440

Supplemental Appropriations: Objection was made to an effort to send H.R. 9169, making supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962, to a conference requested by the Senate. INDEX

The index is keyed to the DIGEST as published with the DAILY CONGRESSIONAL RECORD; the page references below are listed accordingly, as D5, D6, etc.

The bill numbers of proposed legislation are affixed to the subject references so that the subject matter of each measure will be readily available. The breakdown under each subject divides the action on the proposals according to: Messages from the President, hearings or actions by House or Senate committee or joint or conference committee, consideration or action by House or Senate Chamber on the measures, and the public law number when the bill or resolution has been enacted.

The use of an index so devised serves a twofold purpose: Gives all references to such legislation in the DIGEST as well as accounts for the status and history of each bill or resolution.
